

Marketplace Seller Terms

Effective date: July 28, 2026 · Version 2026-07-28

These Seller Terms apply when you list an item on the GamerGain marketplace (including relisting an item you own). They supplement, and are part of, the Terms of Service. Not legal advice — have counsel review before launch.

1. Who can sell

You must have an account in good standing and be 18+. By listing, you represent you have the right to sell the item and that the listing is accurate.

2. Your listing

- Provide an honest title, description, condition, and price (in points and/or, where enabled, card).
- Do not misrepresent items, use others' photos or trademarks without rights, or list items you cannot deliver.
- You may list anonymously (relisting): your name and location are not shown. You remain responsible for the sale.

3. Prohibited and regulated items

You may not list: weapons, ammunition, or explosives; drugs, controlled substances, or paraphernalia; alcohol, tobacco, or vaping products; counterfeit, stolen, or infringing goods; recalled or unsafe items; adult sexual content; live animals; hazardous materials; regulated financial or medical products; government IDs; or anything illegal in the buyer's or seller's location. We screen listings and remove violations; repeated violations lead to suspension.

4. Fulfillment and shipping

For member listings, you are responsible for shipping promptly after a sale and for providing tracking where available. Orders run through our AI-managed fulfillment process (escrow → you ship → funds/points release). If you do not ship within the stated window, the order may be cancelled and the buyer refunded.

5. Pricing, points, and payouts

Points received for a sale are credited to your account per the closed-loop rules in the Terms of Service. Where card sales are enabled, a platform markup applies to the buyer and disclosed fees may apply to you. Points are not cash and are not withdrawable unless and until cash-out is enabled.

6. Cancellations, returns, and disputes

Honor the Refund Policy and any return window shown. If a buyer opens a dispute, respond with evidence promptly; our process decides based on the evidence and may reverse the sale and return the buyer's points. Excessive disputes or cancellations may limit or suspend your selling privileges.

7. Taxes

You are responsible for any taxes on your sales. Where law requires, we may collect tax information and report or withhold.

8. Prohibited conduct

No fee circumvention, off-platform payment solicitation, fake reviews, shill bidding, manipulating search, or harassing buyers. No collecting buyer personal data beyond what a sale requires.

9. Enforcement

We may remove listings, cancel orders, withhold or reverse points, and suspend or terminate selling privileges for violations, suspected fraud, or legal/safety reasons.

10. Changes

We may update these Seller Terms; the effective date will change and continued selling constitutes acceptance.
